Close your eyes and imagine....

Getting up early to prepare to go to work, waking up your kids hurrying them up to get them to a daycare you really can't afford, rushing through morning traffic, dreading the moment where you park on a lot and be shuttled to your cubicle where you login in and get ready for a rah rah session created to build your confidence and get you hype to sell people a service that you don't understand or really even care about. Now imagine getting pumped up and picking up the phone to make your first sales call and extreme anxiety sets in. Not your typical anxiety either. I'm talking about the sweaty palms, nervous jitters, heart pump, dizzy feeling, shortness of breath.

It feels kind of like what I would imagine a heart attack feels like, now imagine all the stares of your coworkers staring at you as if you had 3 eyeballs and them asking if you're ok....This was me in September 2015. I found myself in the back of an ambulance being rushed to a hospital with the diagnosis of a heart attack at 30 years old. This is my story. At that time I had been unhappily married with 2 children ages 5 and 6, spiritually confused, financially devastated after experiencing bankruptcy, foreclosures debt collections, multiple failed businesses, incredibly unhealthy, and steps away from divorce court....

Then I found myself up late one night at 2 or 3 am in the morning praying to God asking Him to deliver me from the stress, deliver me from the anxiety, the uncertainty of what the future holds. I asked that he reveal a way for me to be free. A way to have a better life. I didn't need to be rich, I just needed peace. I stumbled upon a video on YouTube. How to make 12k in 37 days by real estate investing. That was the KEY! Broken and broken found a credit card (first premier bank) for people with bad credit. It was $350 and I used it to buy bandit signs to get my first deal which took me 9 months to do so to trial and error and not having a plan, blueprint, or coach. After successfully completing my first deal and earning $1650, I realized that could do it again. Now we have done several deals for multiple 6 figures, we own 7 figures in real estate, we travel, live, and give generously. I STRONGLY DESIRE TO HELP YOU DO THE SAME STARTING WITH YOUR FIRST DEAL!
